Welcome Address

Dear Colleagues

Welcome to the Egyptian Psychiatric Association annual meeting. The title "What Psychiatrist can do others cannot do!!" is a very challenging issue. The role of psychiatrists should be delineated as the encroachment of the specialty is endangered. In a recent editorial entitled: Are psychiatrists an endangered species?? which means a real warning. Actually, psychiatrists can do a lot. Physicians prescribe antidepressants, Neurologists prescribe antipsychotics and psychologists practice efficiently and competently psychotherapy.

However psychiatrists will have the major role in medical and psychiatric comorbidity, which is the rule rather than the exception, liaison Psychiatry....and the research work on efficacy and effectiveness of psychotropic drugs, longitudinal course of psychiatric disorders, promotion of mental health, first, second and third prevention of mental disorders.

Psychiatrists must be first and foremost and, at the times, a physician .. in fact psychiatry is neurology without physical signs and calls for diagnostic virtuosity of the highest order. The psychiatrist should not only first be a physician but ideally a superlative
