Announcement and Call for Papers

Welcome Message

Dear Colleagues

It gives me great pleasure to invite you to Cairo for our annual international conference. If you have already participated you will probably know how concerned we are to make this a memorable scientific experience.

As usual, we try to link the evidence base in the field of psychiatry to daily clinical practice, and this year we chose the theme "Moving from Theory to Clinical Practice" to maintain direction.

Our distinguished guest list speaks for itself. You will be pleased to know that we will be hearing the Right Honorable Robin Murray talking to our conference on the links between theory and management of schizophrenia. Prof. David McCracken will update our understanding on the management of autistic disorders, and we will apply the recent evidence from addiction research to management through Professors Walter Ling, and Richard Rawson. Only space prevents reporting of all our distinguished panel of speakers in 2011.

2011 is the year when the most modern psychiatric hospital owned by the people comes into full operational capacity participating in clinical care, research, and teaching as has never been done before in Kasr El Ainy. We are proud of that.

Beyond all, January 2011 delivered a very Egyptian people's revolution. The spirit of this revolution lives on, and with your support this conference will be a step towards the positive change it seeks. We hope that you can share with us the happiness of a new era, and of pursuing new frontiers of knowledge.
